That was before the question of power interests arose. Their purpose was to ascertain if Ontario was in the market for more power." Mr. Ferguson had told them that power from the hydro electric com-

THE EXPECTED HAPPENED

The budget statement presented at Ottawa yesterday confirms the unanimous expectation that a heavy deficit would be shown in the Dominion finances for the year past. If the news is bad, it at least was not broken suddenly upon an unsuspecting public.

That there would be a deficit, and one of huge proportions, has been long known to anyone who took note of the trade returns and other official conditions at the sources from which revenue is drawn. It has been somewhat generally accepted that the figure could not fall short of $100,000,000.

In fact, the shortage is $119,500,000. Last year the adverse balance was $75,000,000. Roughly speaking, the deficit is 60 per cent worse than a year ago, despite the measures taken last spring to bring the income to the level of the proposed expenditure.

Of this total deficit, $51,000,000 is accounted for by the gap between ordinary revenue and ordinary expenditure. This spread was occasioned by a heavy slump in revenue, which went down faster and farther than expenditure could be curtailed. The remaining $68,500,000 represents the extraordinary expenditure incurred in unemployment and farm relief.

A "DEPRESSION" BUDGET

The Government is evidently no more convinced than a year ago that prosperity is about to make an early appearance, sweep away the distress, and restore buoyancy to trade and volume to the revenues.

Were that the prospect, it must be supposed the Minister would refrain from throwing any heavier handicap on the public at a time when all the resources of the nation are required to maintain the measure of activity that exists and when any further weakening of those resources must react to make hard times harder.

No chance is being taken that an early improvement in business will restore equilibrium to the public finances. As a year ago, the Minister is making a bet in recognition that nothing of the kind is likely to occur. As then, there is a lengthy program of increased taxation, calculated to bring in additional $50,000,000 in the coming year equal to the deficit of last year on ordinary account.

That this country will prove to be correct must be hoped. A third budget of the kind would be disastrous. The Minister is confident that the result will be obtained. But he has no forgetting that his predecessor was quite as confident on that score a year ago. Mr. Bennett, too, thought at first that he had brought matters into balance. The figures submitted by Mr. Rhodes show how far astray that estimate was.

WHY IT IS NECESSARY

The prime reason why Mr. Bennett's prediction failed, and why there was a deficit at the end of the year on ordinary expenditure, is the falling of the figures set out in the statement yesterday. Canada, in common with most other countries, sustained the consequences of dwindling trade.

"Imports for the first eleven months of the year showed a decline of $310,000,000 over the preceding year. Exports showed a decrease of $216,000,000. Canadians bought less abroad, therefore sold less custom-made goods to the Government's coffers. They bought less at home because they sold less abroad, and the exchange receipts dropped.

So all along the line. "Of the major sources of income only one, income tax, brought in approximately the sum estimated." Last year the total of income tax were based on the incomes received in the year 1930. Incomes unfortunately shrank year after year, and it will be a happy circumstance if this year's collections from that source continue to measure up to the estimate.

In a word, the sweeping taxation program brought in last June failed to do what it was supposed to do. Whether it brought in more revenue than otherwise have been received, cannot be known. What is certain is that the widely increased tariff, the increased postage, stamp tax, sales tax, and other taxes failed to bring in the amount expected by $51,000,000. Because of that there is another schedule of increases, from which better results are hoped.

WHERE IT HITS

The point of interest in a budget is the point at which it touches the pocket of the individual, directly as a taxpayer, or indirectly by increasing his cost of living or interfering with his business. On both scores the new scale of levies will have more than casual significance for a large proportion of the public.

The sales tax goes up from four per cent to six, the highest level it ever attained. This tax is collected at the factory and passed along the line to the ultimate consumer. He will accordingly pay two per cent more for the articles affected.

The super tax levied on all goods imported into Canada is increased from one per cent to three. This tax is also added to the ultimate selling cost of the commodities affected, and the consumer will feel the actual paying.

The income tax exemptions are lowered. That is to say, many who have not had to pay in the past will have to pay in the future. The 20 per cent exemption hitherto allowed in the tax bill, is cancelled. In other words, the rate of taxation is increased 25 per cent. And for those who earned more than $5,000 last year there is an additional percentage of 5 per cent.

The taxes on insurance companies and premiums are reimposed. The stamp tax is increased to 3 cents, and on amounts over $100 it is doubled. There is a five per cent tax on telegrams, long distance telephone calls, cablegrams and radio messages. Those occupying berths in sleeping cars will pay a 10 per cent tax, with a minimum of 25 cents.

This is distinctly a tax-raising budget. That it will not be indicated by the living expenses of the average citizen is inevitable; though neither in that respect nor in the hampering of business are its results likely to be far-reaching as those of last year's budget.

In endeavoring to do his utmost to carry out that will grow and do well on the prairie, the experimental farms have tried nearly every foreign tree, with certainly no success in any case. It would seem that the attention of the farms would be better turned to the improvement and propagation of native trees and shrubs, the introduction of which failure is now proven to be absolutely certain.

By Hamilton Livestock Branch
EDMONTON STOCKYARDS, April
7—Receipts today were 80 cattle, 50 calves, 684 hogs and 72 sheep.

The quality of the offerings is not of the best. This compared with a rather optimistic attitude on the part of the buyers, to causing a low, dull market. Prices on medium heavy steers and calves are showing a weaker tendency.

Maple Leafs Ready for Attack of New Yorkers in Second Battle

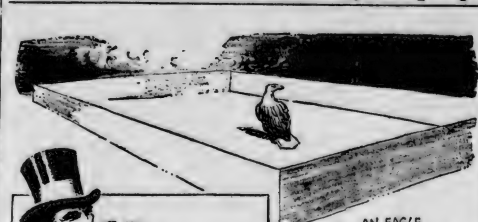

Racing fans from here to Atlanta, and from England to Japan yesterday expressed their regrets at the death in California of Earl Lark, the only occasional "winter" from the land of the kangaroo. His death just at this time will be particularly regretted for more than one reason. Lark played a better game than any other in the world, and he was a great thoroughbred, but Earl Lark was not a horse, he was a horse's horse.

It is the Big Red Bay Train from the Atlantic that has been the best horse to ever race in the American turf. This, it is said, is the only horse that has ever been discovered just how to race with the English thoroughbreds of all time.

But that hope is all gone with his death and only the remnants remain.

Speaking of racing, J. James, owner of Winnipeg, the last owner of Prairie Thoroughbred breeders, has died. He was a great horse man and a great breeder. He was a great horse man and a great breeder.

Another prominent racing man in the city Wednesday was Captain Larkin, well known owner and breeder from Clarendon.

More baseball talk in the afternoon each evening day. Like others, it is the belief that the Senior Amateur Baseball League would be making a good move this year if it retained the base of its operations in 1932 of the year of its establishment. It is a good move and it is a good move.

It is thought it is time the senior players moved out of the park in the East End and got into a park that was meant for baseball in the first place and where it is possible to play the game as it should be played.

At the same time it is an impossible situation to know of the three fields and other conditions. The players to play at this time and the three fields to play at this time. The players to play at this time and the three fields to play at this time.

Rangers Still Confident They Can Set Back Toronto Team

BOSTON, Mass., April 7.—Keyed up by confidence of a victory already to the credit, Toronto's flashy Maple Leafs rested today, awaiting the charge of New York's Rangers in the second game of the Stanley cup hockey series.

MISS GLADYS FRY

Much of the success of the Commercial Grade is undoubtedly due to the ability of this young lady to get the plays away from centre, and she holds down that particular position in the ranks of the Vancouver team.

On a second game in a three-offensive series hangs an importance that can scarcely be reckoned.

There was optimism in the Leafs' headquarters as realization came upon players and many fans.

Proposals for New Revenues Accorded Mixed Reception Over Canada

VIGOROUS KICK TO BE GIVEN TO INSURANCE TAX

Businessmen in General Forewarn Inevitable Increases

Proposals for new taxation in yesterday's budget speech of E. N. Rhodes, minister of finance, today had been accorded a mixed reception. Heads of British and foreign insurance companies, however, by Canadian practices were said to be contemplating vigorous representations against the proposal to tax the policyholders 15 per cent. of gross premiums, or against the proposal to keep on deposit with the government sums of money equal to their liabilities to policyholders.

Businessmen inclined to treat the budget as inevitable, and generally as a good one, although in many quarters, doubt, was expressed regarding effectiveness to produce required revenue in the face of depressed prices and incomes. Some commentators saw it as a blow to business, while others thought its effect on trade would be negligible.

Pacific Coast business men saw in it no threat to business, while some on the prairies thought it would be a severe blow for business to carry. In the east it had a mixed reception. Increase in the sales tax from four to six per cent was met by W. A. Black, president of the Optique Firm Company Limited, as a blow to the city's negligible increase in revenue.

due to the depressed dollar value of sales.

B. Brown, chairman of the retail section of the Toronto board of trade, said increase in the sales tax was preferable to a "turnover" tax.

Arthur R. Purvis, president of Canadian Industries Limited, reported the government had decided to make the one per cent increase in the corporation tax retroactive to 1931 and said firms who had advanced to pay their books and distributed revenue would find the added burden a grievous one.

Heads of corporations, generally, were inclined to view the increase in the corporation tax as logical payment of a legitimate source of revenue. Some, however, thought, with corporations reduced, the government would not gain much revenue from the increase.

C. L. Burton, president of the Robert Simpson Company, said the increase in the sales tax would doubtless increase the price of consumption.

KIDNAPING THREATENED

WINNIPEG, April 7.—The home of A. J. Brown, a well-known local politician, was threatened with kidnaping yesterday when three letters addressed to him were received from a person who threatened to kidnap him if he did not pay a ransom of $10,000.

BERLIN, April 7.—The windows of two Japanese restaurants in Berlin were smashed yesterday when Communists stirred the sidewalk with their fists and stones.

Son Menaced

Three messages threatening the kidnapping of 3-year-old Wilfred Lewis, Jr. (right), were reported to have been received in Washington by the child's father, Sir Wilfred Lewis (left), correspondent of the London Times. The third note was said to have presented a demand for $100,000.

HIGH LIGHTS OF SESSION ARE RECALLED

Amusing and Other Incidents Take Place in Legislature

In every legislative session there are outstanding incidents and incidents that remain long after they have taken place on the floor of the house. So it was with the session that opened on Wednesday.

There were unusual occurrences that stood out even in a session replete with the unusual.

Outstanding was the tremendous amount of debate. There were more private members' resolutions discussed than in any session of recent years. An indication of this was given in the debate on the speech from the throne which lasted two weeks.

To W. R. Hewson, Liberal, Edmonton, goes the long debate speech record for the session, with a total of three hours registered in his speech on the budget.

Also entered the long debate speech of last session, which was two hours and half, delivered by George H. Webster, Liberal house leader, also on the budget.

TWO HOUR SPEECH

Two hours was the longest Premier E. Brown's record of speeches for the session. He also entered the long debate speech record, never in any session consumed more than one hour and a half.

J. J. McNeil, U.F.A., Taber, broke the record that had characterized his career in the house last session, securing the record for the longest speech in the house last session, secured the record for the longest speech in the house last session, secured the record for the longest speech in the house last session.

Industries. Incidentally he and his wife, Mrs. F. S. O'Rourke, U.F.A., Oke, were overruled on their contributions to debate.

The most humorous incident was when the Gams Act was under discussion April 1, and to play a trick on M. McLeod, U.F.A., Cochrane, invited A. G. Ross, Liberal, Grand Forks, to the house, while the speaker was under consideration.

The longest debate was that on the speech from the throne, which on Tuesday night lasted 18 hours, 45 minutes and 34 seconds.

All members were obviously tired when the session closed last night. The general feeling was that it was the longest session in the post-war period.

Goods Stolen From City Meat Market

A five pound ham, six tins of jam and 24 cans of sardines were stolen from a meat market in the city of Winnipeg, where entrance was made into the market, 1032, 91 street, Wednesday night.

The break-in was made between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m., and was discovered by the proprietor who communicated with police. Entrance was gained by getting up one of the rear windows.

Persons over nearly 3,000 acres in the German states of Wurttemberg and Baden.
